PHILADELPHIA- OCT. 3--(INS)--ALLEN W. DULLES- DIRECTOR OF THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY- SAID TODAY THE MOST OBVIOUS DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE FREE WORLD AND COMMUNIST-DOMINATED AREAS IS THAT THE FREE WORLD PROVIDES FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT THAT PROTECTS THE RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

IN CONTRAST- DULLES EXPLAINED- RED-CONTROLLED STATES USE LAW ENFORCEMENT TO SAFEGUARD "THE RULING REGIME WITHOUT REGARD FOR INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS" AND POLICE POWER BECOMES "THE SHIELD OF ENTRENCHED AUTOCRATIC AUTHORITY."

THE INTELLIGENCE CHIEF TOLD THE INTERNATIONAL CHIEFS OF POLICE CONVENTION IN PHILADELPHIA THAT POLICE AGENCIES OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONS ARE FACED WITH A NEW TYPE OF CHALLENGE IN COMBATING CAREFULLY-TRAINED AGENTS OF INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM.

HE POINTED OUT THAT HIS AGENCY ESTIMATES THAT THE SOVIET EXPENDITURES IN TRAINING- SUPPORT AND OPERATION OF ITS SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES MAY BE NEARLY TEN PERCENT OF THE COST OF THE RED'S OVERALL ARMAMENT PROGRAM.
